

What is a

CAMP WORKER?

Camp workers plan, prepare and serve meals and clean facilities in remote construction camps. Unite Here Local 40 has been representing camp workers for over 70 years.

Is Camp Work For You?

Are you a Chef with your Red Seal certification?

Are you a first or second cook with your Red Seal certification?

Are you a Baker with your Red Seal certification?

Can you prepare meals for large groups of people?

Have you worked in hotels cleaning rooms?

Have you worked in restaurants or industrial kitchens doing dishes or preparing food?

If you have what it takes and you have any of these qualifications, please submit a resume with copies of certificates. Be sure to list all relevant experience and detailed contact information.

B.C.'S ECONOMY IS BOOMING

Unite Here Local 40 strives to provide qualified people for good paying jobs with excellent benefits.

UNITE HERE LOCAL 40

From Prince George to Powell River, Vancouver to Victoria, we're building a fighting union for hospitality workers in BC to win respect and improve our jobs. UNITE HERE Local 40 represents workers throughout BC who work in remote construction camps, hotels, food service and airports. Local 40 is part of the UNITE HERE International Union, representing over 300,000 workers in the camp, hotel, food service, airport and gaming industries throughout Canada and the U.S.

UNITE HERE Local 40 has a diverse membership that includes workers from many immigrant and First Nations communities.

Through organizing, UNITE HERE members have made camp work a family supporting career with excellent wages and benefits.
